(Copyright 1803; By The United Press. London, Oct. 7.—The National Union of Conservative Associations, which will meet at Car-Dunraven, owner of the Valkyrie, to be its its accumulated stocks at enormous profit, represident. This conference of the National Union is to the Conservatives what the great annual caucus of the National Liberal Federation is to the Liberals, and its highest office is an exceptional political honor. The Marquis of Bute, who has great financial interests in the Caraiff district, was a possible candidate for the office, but the Earl of Dunraven is preferred, as he is not only a great Welsh landowner, but also a sound politician. He is therefore the unanimous choice of his party. Although vachting is his dominant passion, he is an earnest student of public affairs. He is an earnest student of public affairs. He is an earnest student of public affairs. an earnest student of public affairs. He is an effective speaker, and, while Under-Secretary of the Colonies, he displayed unexpected qualities as a discreet statesman The conference probably will not add any against new plank to the Conservatve platform, which naturally cannot be enlarged with the case attending the development of the Liberal programme. The Marquis of Salisbury will make his first speech since the adjournment of Parlia- ing ment before the conference. He will indicate his line of policy for the Opposition, and will explain with some detail the means with which he hopes to effect his grand purpose-an early dissolution.

CONSERVATIVES CONFIDENT OF VICTORY. Conservatives are confident that the Government will be badly beaten in the next general election. The British majority against the Gladstonians is expected by Conservative statesmen to be so decisive that the Irish vote will be swamped in the House of Commons, and the Unionists will be certain of seven years in power. This expectation is based largely on the returns from the constituencies upon the completion of the electoral registrations. Everywhere the registers show Unionist gains. Mr. Balfour, leader of the Unionists in the House of Commons, recently described London as the key to the electoral situation, and expressed the conviction that the returns from London would reveal an average gain of 500 votes in every one of thirty metropolitan constituencies. He draws from the registrations advance the 40,000,000 marks necessary for the paythe inference that the intense reaction which ment of the January coupons. ernment ought to be utilized by his party as Government, had suddenly placed the Italian treashe finds to be in progress against the Government ought to be utilized by his party as soon as possible to push Mr. Gladstone from power. The trouble with the Conservative manfor a loan of 45,000,000 frames, demanded immediate agers is that they cannot find any means of forcing the Government to a dissolution at treasury, although canvassing every financial centre once, and when Mr. Gladstone consents to go of Europe for a projected rente loan of $30,000,000 before the country the whole situation among francs, issued an order making the payment of the voters may be changed.

PROPOSED REDUCTION OF IRISH REPRESENTA-

Speaking in Edinburgh this week, Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the last Salisbury Cabinet, hinted that Mr. Gladstone's projected Registration Reform bill would be rejected by the House of Lords, unless the measure should be accompanied by provisions for such a redistribution of Parliamentary seats as would reduce the number of Irishmen at Westminster. The Cardiff Conference will pass resolutions favoring a redistribution of eats, which will limit the Irish representation in Parliament to eighty members, instead of 103, as at present. Liberals say, however, that bill. Even if the Peers nerve themselves to throw out every important Liberal measure sent up to them by the House of Commons, Mr. Gladstone will proceed to pass through the lower House all the measures announced in agreement with the Newcastle programme, "The Speaker" comments thus on the report that the Lords will make a fight all along the

The Congress's conception of Christian Socialism has proved to be merely that clerical ideas and influence must be extended more powerfully among the poor.

A different conception of Christian Socialism prevailed in the meeting of the Ministers' Union, held in London simultaneously with the Birmingham Congress. Dr. Clifford, who presided at the meeting, described himself as a "Christian Collectivist, who believed in the collective control of industries, beginning with nationalization or municipalization of the gas works, water works, tramways, and coal mines." "TOM" MANN TO TAKE HOLY ORDERS.

The newspapers are making much of the report that "Tom" Mann will take holy orders in December. To Mann's friends the report is no surprise. He has had a wide religious experience as a Methodist, a Swedenborgian, etc. Like Tillett, Hardie, Pickard and most other labor agitators in England, he can talk as well from a pulpit as from a truck. As a curate of the Established Church he is likely to have some curious experiences, as his future colleagues in the clergy are already eying him askance.

The nations of the Latin Union, moreover, have a strong motive to meet the United States and India in a conciliatory spirit. The conference must fail if they insist upon England's agreeing to a fundamental change of her monetary system. Germany also will not make a change and Russia is not ready to resume specie payments. ITALY RECKLESS ABOUT IRRITATING FRANCE-THE REPORTED ATTEMPT OF THE UNITED STATES TO NEGOTIATE A GOLD LOAN IN PARIS-PERSONAL.

Copyright: 1893. By The United Prest. Berlin, Oct. 7.-While Prince Bismarck absorbs popular interest, which never tires of the minutest detail regarding him, official and diplomatic attention has been directed to the critical financial condition of Italy and the probable effect of this condition on her relations to the Triple Alliance. Last week the position of the Italian Government was so uncertain that a Berlin syndicate hesitated to French intrigues, doubtless incited by the Carnot payment. At about the same time the Italian coupons in gold abroad subject to sworn affidavits and other vexations formalities evidently designed to delay the delivery of the coin. The Berlin syndirate, which had been in negotiation with the Italian Government, at once drew back and declined to make the desired advance. Everywhere in Europe the rente loan was refused, regardless of terms.

The financial deadlock was assuming serious political import when the German Government, as late as last Thursday, intervened to enable Italy to get enough money from Berlin bankers for the payment of the next coupons. How far the Government has guaranteed its financial support to Italy is not known, but the best informed finangive Italy the official support of both Governments and make possible for her the negotiation of the 600,000,000 franc loan. AN EDITOR OF THE "TAGEBLATT" SHOT. GENERAL RIBCHBACH TAKES REVENGE FOR AN OFFENSIVE PUBLICATION.

Berlin, Oct. 7.-General Kirchbach, a Prussian Army officer well known in the Brandenburg mil tary district, tried this morning to kill Dr. Harich, sub-editor of the Berlin "Tageblatt."

Some time ago the "Tageblatt" published an item to the effect that "the daughter of a well-known officer in Brandenburg had eloped with a family servant." No names were given, but the details pointed to Fraulein Kirchbach as the young woman is question. She, through her father, sued the "Tage-blatt" for libel, and the publishers were sentenced pay a fine of 1,000 marks. During the hearing t was shown that Harich was responsible for the publication of the item. This morning General Kirchbach went to Harich's house and laid before him a paper stating that the signer, Dr. Harich, was a scoundrel and a liar. Kirchbach ordered Harich to sign the paper, but he refused to do so. Kirchbach then drew a revolver and fired at Har-ich's face. The powder scorched Harich's face and clothes, but the bullet only grazed the side of his head. As Harieh fell Kirchbach fired a second time, but the shot went wide of the mark. Harich's family burst into the room before the General could fire again. They threw themselves upon him and called for the police. When the police came Kirchbach claimed exemption from the civil law and demanded that he be handed over to the military authorities. His demand was granted and he is now under military arrest. He told the police that he had intended to kill Harich.

TERRIBLE STORIES OF DEATH AND DESC. LATION.

THE NUMBER OF LIVES LOST PLACED AT 2275 MANY SURVIVORS STARVING

New-Orleans, Oct. 7 -- With the telegraph wires working more regularly the full extent of the disaster in this section of the country is becoming known, and every message brings additions to the number of vessels wrecked and lives lost. An arriving schooner at Biloxi reports that many bodies are floating on the shore at Cat Island, Ship Island and Chandeleur Island. Not less than soip Island and Chamberloon Cat Island alone. They are being buried as rapidly as the county tried relief parties are able to dig graves for them in the sand of the beach. Before the storm of Sunday there were 199 craft anchored in and around Biloxi. Only three survived.

The stories of death and desolation from the storm-stricken district of Southern Louisiana lying between Pointe a la Hache and the quarantine station are of the most harrowing character. Scores of dead bodies are still lying on the river's edge or are in the high and tangled weeds of the marshes. Many of those who escaped are starving. It is reported that men and women, driven to desperation by hunger, are feeding on dead animals, A large number of bodies have already been thrown into trenches and covered up, but those still lying exposed to the hot sun are rapidly decomposing. adding further peril to the situation. It was to relieve this terrible condition that the Board of Health yesterday morning sent down the coast a large quantity of lime and disinfectants. The board has dispatched a physician to the scene to superintend the distribution of the disinfectants and render any aid in his power.

The distress is so great that the Board of Health yesterday concluded to send an appeal for help to similar bodies in the leading cities of the country.

Furs are more fashionable this winter than ever, so say all the fashion articles from Paris, Berlin and London. Then, too, when you wear a fur wrap you are not afraid of a little mist or a drop of rain. If you are not satisfied with your furrier or he does not show as large an assortment as you wish to select from, visit the show rooms of J. N. Collins & Co., No. 32 West 14th Street, this week; if you live far from town and do not care to make the journey to the store Collins will send garments on approval; or, if you prefer, will first send fashion plates and write you about the prices. They manufacture all kinds of Fur garments, and can not only supply you at the

> this week. 50 London Dressed and Dved Alaska Sealskin Jackets, large collars and sleeves, full skirts, worth at least $225.00, are to be sold at $178.00.

200 Empire and Columbus Capes, made from choice selected London

Dved Alaska Sealskins, at $149.00; any garment in the lot would be good value at $200.00.

Electric Seal - Don't call it imitation: although it resembles Alaska sealskin it is not so durable, but far better to wear than cloth or plush, and is warmer than either. Collins makes all styles of Capes of this popular fur, with Sable and Mink collars, Butterfly collarettes, fancy ruffles, at prices ranging from $19.50 to $45.00; they are beauties and well worth your considera-

Fur Trimmings-Every width in every kind of fur in stock at the very lowest prices. We can match any sample while you wait.

Floor Rugs-An entire floor for Parlor and Hall Fur Rugs, Carriage and Sleigh Robes and Coachmen's outfits; many new styles this season and all the choicest. Prices of Fur Hall Rugs, 30x64, $1.98 and up. Mounted Tigers, worth $40.00, are now selling at $25.00.

Animal Neck Scarfs-The greatest variety ever shown of all furs, all styles, and almost all prices, from $0.98 to $45.00.
